

The Watchman and Southron.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17, 1894.

For the Protection of Game.

The following law was passed at the session of the Legislature just ended. As will be seen, its provisions are intended to prevent the offering of game for sale or exportation, to prevent non-residents from shooting certain kinds of game in this State:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and house of representatives of the State of South Carolina, now met and sitting in general assembly and by the authority of the same, That it shall not be lawful after the passage of this act, to sell, or expose for sale, any partridge, quail, woodcock or pheasant, deer or wild turkey, within the State of South Carolina. Any person so doing shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than ten dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than ten days for each offense.

Section 2. It shall not be lawful to export out of the limits of the State of South Carolina, any partridge, quail, woodcock or pheasant, deer or wild turkey. Any person doing so shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than ten dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than ten days for each offense.

Section 3. All persons not citizens of the State and visiting in the State for the purpose of shooting game of any kind, shall pay a license of $25 to the county treasurer of the county where the visitor may be, the money to be devoted to the public schools. Any person not obtaining said license before hunting or shooting, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned not more than thirty days for each offense: Provided, that this act shall not apply to any person hunting or killing on his own land Changes in the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The coming changes in the Cabinet circle forms the chief topic of conversation about the capital at present. There is now very little doubt that Attorney General Olney will resign. The affairs of the State Fe road, need his counsel now, if they ever did, and they have whistled for the Bostonian to resign and come to their aid. Mr. Olney never cared anything for his official work and does not hesitate to say that it has been very distasteful to him. It is stated here to-day that his resignation is already in the hands of the President.

In any case it is safe to presume that Mr. Bissel will succeed him and from a reliable source it is learned that Josiah Quincy of Massachusetts, will be made Postmaster General. It has generally been predicted that Mr. Hoke Smith would succeed to the Attorney Generalship when Mr. Olney resigned, and while he was very anxious to be booked for this pigeon-hole in the Cabinet in the beginning, now that he is the Secretary of the Interior, he wishes to remain so until the end of his four years.

A Simple Remedy for Grip.

A few years ago when the influenza or grip was so prevalent, I noticed a report on the disease from one of the best hospitals of Europe. The hospital is in Edinburgh, Scotland. At the time of the report hundreds of influenza cases had been treated there. After fighting the epidemic with varying success, a happy accident led the superintendent to adopt an alkaline treatment with an extreme case that was brought in. A full dose of saleratus was given every two hours. Although the patient was in convulsions when brought in, she became quieter a short time after the first dose; and only three doses were given before the patient was clearly on the way to recovery. In three days she was counted well. This same simple treatment was then followed with a thousand, not one of whom died. Best of all, not only was the influenza promptly cured, but there was no unpleasant or dangerous symptoms following recovery. It has been observed that not more die of the influenza than of what may follow it.

From some work in my chemical laboratory, carried on before this report came out, I had concluded that the influenza was at least associated with excessive acidity of the system, if it was not caused by this abnormal state. I was so certain of the correctness of this view that, on being thrown in bed myself with the influenza, I treated myself only with alkaline drinks to counteract the acid. The result was that instead of two or three weeks of puny, I missed only one day from work.

The success with my own case was so astonishing that I have been called to treat other cases; and of about twenty five treated, very few have had to give up work more than a day—some not at all.

Not being a physician, I should feel some hesitancy in offering my cure, if after I had begun to try it, it had not received the high endorsements quoted.

At first, I used the carbonate of lithia, which is the best of the alkalines for the purpose. But as my practice (all charity) enlarged, I left so expensive a drug, and contented myself with the carbonate of potash and soda. These I found practically as good as the lithia.

For the sake of the suffering public I would say that the dose I have used for grown patients has been a level teaspoon of baking soda, dissolved in plenty of water, taken every two hours until soreness and headache are gone, and then one extra dose for good measure. It is not best to take a dose just before or just after eating. I have rarely found more than four doses needed.

Since the system is in an acid state, calomel is of course a very dangerous medicine, and many deaths from influenza are, without reasonable doubt, traceable to the use of calomel in the disease.

It is interesting to note that, when all else failed, our grandmothers used to cure the worst colds with "fire-coal tea." This was simply a crude saleratus treatment. So there is nothing new under the sun, and our wise theory simply proves the soundness of another of their old practical ways.

The Lottery not Dead.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2.—The supposition that there will be no more lotteries in New Orleans after January 1, as the Louisiana concern had emigrated to Honduras, was erroneous. To-day all over the city the lottery offices were open. Any one can now take one or more chances in the New Orleans Premium Club. There is no longer daily drawings by the Louisiana State Lottery Company, but in the offices heretofore occupied by the employees of that late company any person can invest in a ticket that is alleged to represent a chance in the "distribution of premiums" effected daily by the aforesaid club. It is really a lottery company formed by the vendors of the old company, who have been thrown out of jobs and with a little capital have hit on a means of earning a living, if not more. Two places were raided during the day by the police, Lionel Adams, an attorney, says he has found a flaw in the anti-lottery law, and is going to defend the lottery vendors.
